THB Intermediaries, Inc. is a national boutique brokerage specializing in the placement of facultative property and casualty reinsurance and Program Administration. Since its creation in 1984, THB has been a recognized leader in this specialized market segment operating through its strategically located offices in New York, Chicago, Dallas and Los Angeles. THB Intermediaries is fundamentally different from other facultative brokerages which were established primarily as "service centers" for a larger treaty operation. From the outset, THB was conceived and operates as a "facultative specialist" servicing a national client base of insurance carriers, retail and wholesale brokers and managing general agents through a network of the most experienced facultative brokers in the country. THB Intermediaries is a wholly owned subsidiary of Hub International Limited, one of the top ten retail brokerages in North America.
